

WHEN EXPECTATIONS MEET REALITY IN A MINISTRY MARRIAGE

◀ MATT AND DIANE OLSON
Regional Director
Mile High Baptist Association

We get married with a certain set of expectations. We may think these expectations are reasonable, but in reality, they are impossible to meet. The longer we live the greater the gap widens between our expectations and reality... creating distance, discouragement, and cynicism. We begin with asking the question, "Where are you placing your expectations."

ANNUAL MEETING BREAKOUT

MAIN POINT

To give a resource to ministry couples what will help them grow stronger in their relationship.

- 1 You cannot change anyone.
- 2 You can change.
- 3 When you change by embracing your God given responsibilities and placing your expectations in God Alone you will be in concert with what God is doing to change the lives of others as well as come to a place of personal peace, joy, and contentment.
